DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-20 are pending as filed on 24 January 2005.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement submitted on 24 January 2005 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the examiner has considered the information disclosure statement.

Specification

3. The incorporation of essential material in the specification by reference to an unpublished US application, foreign application or patent, or to a publication is improper. Applicant is required to amend the disclosure to include the material incorporated by reference, if the material is relied upon to overcome any objection, rejection, or other requirement imposed by the Office. The amendment must be accompanied by a statement executed by the applicant, or a practitioner representing the applicant, stating that the material being inserted is the material previously incorporated by reference and that the amendment contains no new matter. See 37 CFR 1.57(f).

Claim Objections

4. A series of singular dependent claims is permissible in which a dependent claim refers to a preceding claim which, in turn, refers to another preceding claim.

A claim which depends from a dependent claim should not be separated by any claim which does not also depend from said dependent claim. It should be kept in mind that a dependent claim may refer to any preceding independent claim. In general, applicant's sequence will not be changed. See MPEP § 608.01(n).

5. Claims 3 and 4 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claims, or amend the claims to place the claims in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claims in independent form.

Claim 3 requires the silicone resin to have only (emphasis added) monovalent monofunctional units and tetravalent tetrafunctional units, but claim 2, from which claim 3 depends requires the silicone resin to include monovalent monofunctional units, divalent difunctional units, trivalent trifunctional units and tetravalent tetrafunctional units. Claim 4 depends upon claim 3.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1, 2 and 5-10 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: US Patent 5,973,060 (Ozaki hereinafter) teaches a silicone rubber particulate composition, but fails to teach the particle size distribution instantly claimed and makes no teaching as to the glass transition temperature of the silicone resin.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

International Patent Application Publication WO 2004/013251 (Van Der Linden), while not being prior art as it claims priority to the same European Patent Application as instantly claimed, makes the same disclosure as the instant application but claims different subject matter. It is noted that Van Der Linden has a different inventive entity as the instant application.

8. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters: Resolution of the objections to claims 3 and 4 detailed above.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213, (Comm'r Pat. 1935).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.
